PROFILE

I began my coding journey during a gap year that started in January of 2022. I fell in love with web development after I took an online course facilitated by the University of Johns Hopkins. Since then I have been immersed in learning and building high-quality and cross-device web applications using HTML5 and CSS3. I am also a content creator on LinkedIn and Facebook where I share coding tips and initiate open source projects with other newbie web developers.

EXPERIENCE

OPEN SOURCE PROJCTS

I built portfolio websites, landing pages, animated link-bio pages, HTML email templates, and HTML Email signatures.
All projects can be found on my Github Profile.
